

ExoLisT - Privacy Policy

The information ExoLisT collects consists of the general form data collected during registration and other entries at the discretion of the user during the functions of the ExoList web application.

ExoLisT uses this information for the following purposes:

- To personalize the experience received by the user of ExoList
- For the sake of the user who entered the information and his or her ability to use it in the application's intended function
- To improve customer service (We ask for email addresses for potential random polling of users to see what needs to be changed and what things are good)
- To protect other users from malicious activity.
  - We ask for Email addresses is so that malicious activity within Exolist can be reported to the users affected.
  - We audit the information users put into ExoLisT for potential malicious activity so that we can disable those accounts to protect users who are following our policies.
- We collect contact information from users so that they may be notified of changes to the application

Your information is protected through a variety of means.

- All of Exolist's server access and applications relating to the function of ExoList are password protected and encrypted.
- The use of an access control list is also being used on the server end.
- Finally, Exolist's form variables are all protected from SQL injection to a moderate level.

This makes acquiring ExoLisT's sensitive user information very difficult to do. ExoLisT is not naive to the fact that malicious internet users are always advancing in skill and technology. This means that your information is never 100% secure wherever it is. However, Exolist makes a best effort to protect your information.

ExoLisT will disclose NO information to outside parties.

We do not sell, trade, or transfer any form of personally identifiable information or any information within ExoList. This does not include any persons or companies assisting ExoLisT in the functions of business as long as they agree to the terms as well and keep ExoLisT user information confidential.
